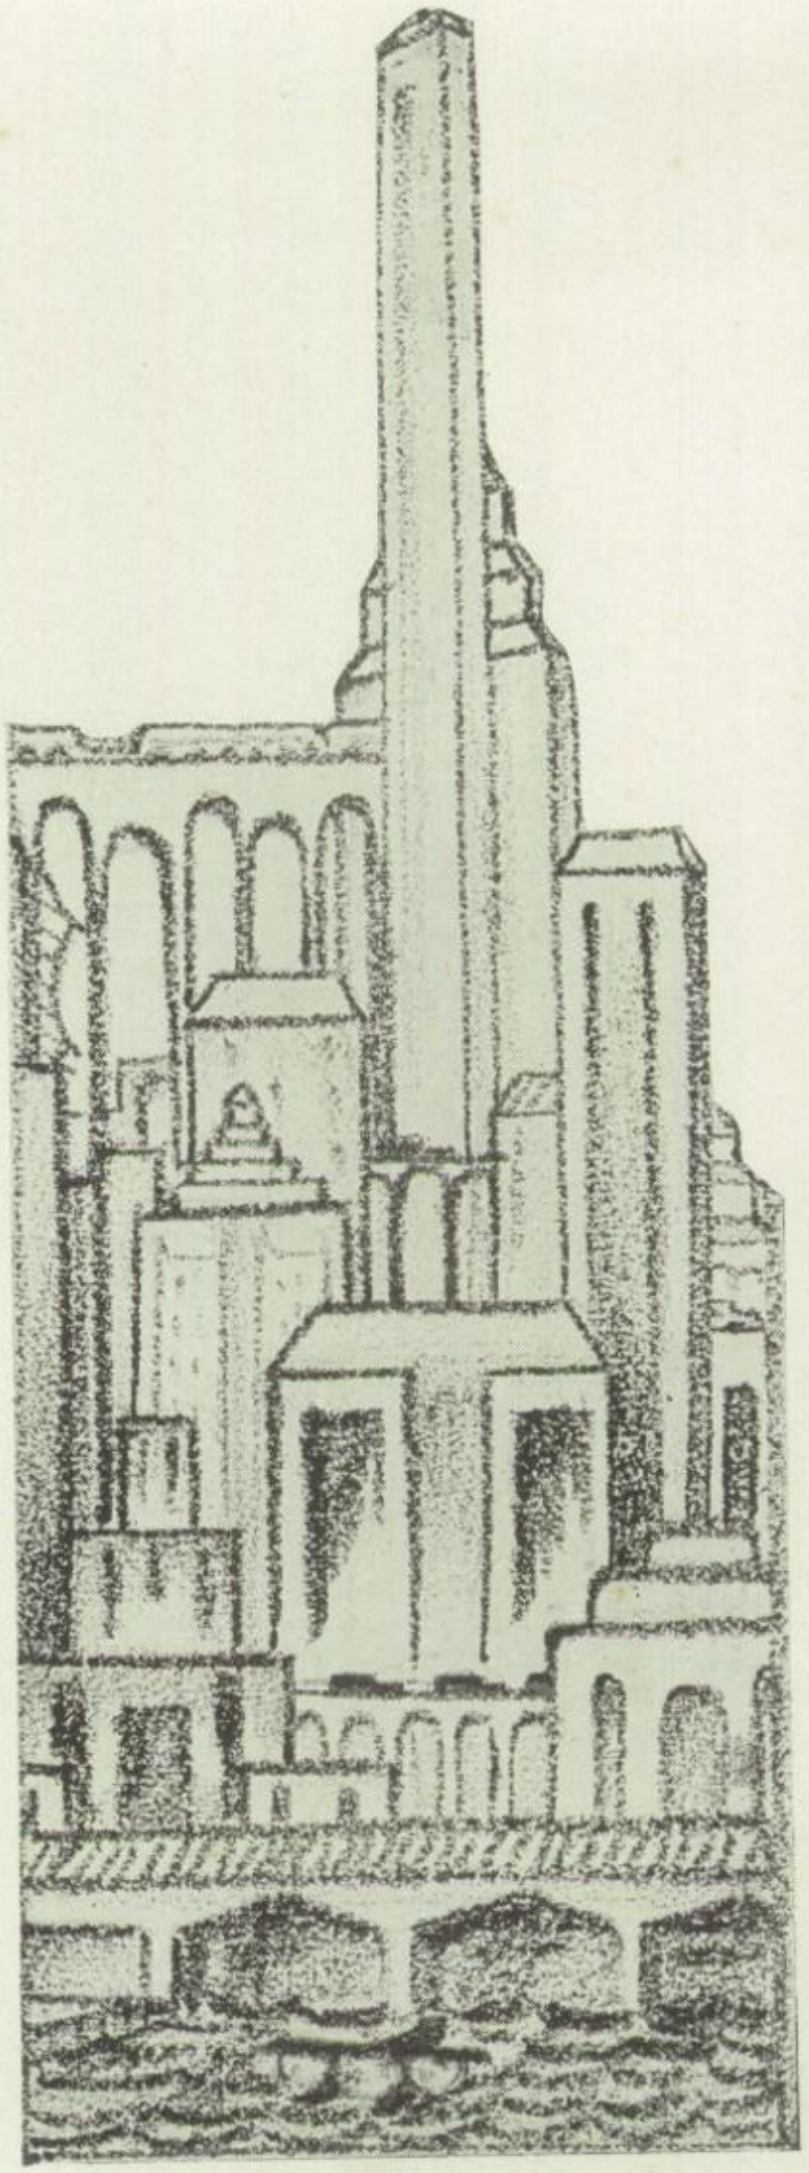
FOREWORD

Sincerely believing that the purpose of THE VIKING needs no explanation, and assuming that it needs no introduction, the editor wishes here to acknowledge gratefully the splendid work and co-operation of the VIKING sponsors and staff in helping to make this annual a true representation of the Senior year of the class of 1933.



DEDICATION

In our respect and admiration for our leader, our sponsor, and our teacher, we, the Senior Class of 1933, gratefully dedicate this eleventh volume of THE VIKING to Mr. E. D. Walker.

Charlotte Abbey

With your musical ability, and quiet pleasant smile,
You've a combination, Charlotte, that's delightful all the while.

Margaret Aiton

Always willing to help out;
Well, she does it, without a doubt.

Margaret Armstrong

She's a dear, the boys all declare,
After a glance at her lovely hair.

Jimmie Barber

A genuine sportsman, off the field and on;
North Dallas will miss you, Jimmie, my son.

Miriam Beaird

Miriam is all a school could wish:
A friend of Seniors, an advisor of Fish.

Ross Bedell

Ideas trouble me even more than girls
Because to me they are rare as pearls.

Gerald Bennett

"Music hath charms"—
So hath the musician.

Granville Berry

Bubbling with life, he likes to tease,
But it's really his desire to please.

Henry Boll

Blessed with the talent to please;
Born to shoot baskets with ease.

Virginia Bradley

She reminds us of a queen:
Stately, quiet, and serene.

James Brake

E. W. Brake

He's very tall, and likes girls small;
And is remarkably good in football.

James Brake

A Jack of all trades, personality plus;
We're glad to have him numbered with us.

Charlotte Brewer

To Paderewski she surely is kin;
Before long you'll say, "I knew her when."

Henry Bridges

If you want a friend that is a friend,
Pick Henry, and you'll always win.

Edwin Burton

That he's so well liked by all his mates,
Shows that at North Dallas, Edwin rates.

Angeline Butera

She has pretty hair with many a curl,
And is quite a charming little girl.

Ruth Campbell

We like her for a sunny smile
That makes her welcome all the while.

Jim Casper

A steady worker is this Jim,
And somebody will be proud of him.

Clovis Chapman

No matter what the wind or weather,
He and duty go together.

Jack Chase

Whence is thy learning?
Hath thy toil o'er books consumed the midnight oil?

Marguerite Clark

A person with big eyes like this
Must surely be a dangerous miss.

Garland Clawson

Garland is always very cheerful,
Always daring, never fearful.

Rogie Clay

Her sweetness, personality, and hair all a-curl,
Has set many a masculine head all awhirl.

Ileta Clements

People love and admire her at first sight;
And after talking to her, they know they're right.

Betty Cochran

Bright, witty, never slow
The type who's always on the go.

Margaret Cook

We find in her a friend sincere
Always smiling, and never a tear.

Margaret Courtney

God bless the boys, I love them all:
Jack and John, Peter and Paul.

Vivian Cowdrey

She's easy to please
And always makes you feel at ease.

Elva Laura Crump

She counts her friends by the score
Yet there's always room for more.

W. L. Crowdus, Jr.

Happy am I, from care I am free—
Why can't they all be contented like me?

Elizabeth Cullum

She's attractive and she's witty;
She's stylish and she's pretty.

Nellie Cummings

Style, talent, and will are hers:
The qualities every girl prefers.

Sandal Dailey

Winning ways and charming smile,
Pretty clothes with lots of style.

Robert Dansby

A quiet gentleman in class,
And outside, too.

Al Dealey

Possesses a gift too rare to tell:
He does all things and does them well.

George Dees

We grant that though he has much wit,
He is very shy in using it.

Marguerite Dosier

Witty, and wise,
With a smile that never dies.

Jack Drake

Whether in school or out at play
He's full of fun and worries not a day.

Philip Dudney

Philip has the broadest shoulders we've every seen,
And everyone says he's certainly "keen."

Margie Ruth Echols

She loves everyone, great and small,
And in turn is loved by all.

Inez Edge

Hinder me not; I'm in a hurry
My English history to bury.

Harry English

Always smiling and full of fun,
Therefore he's a favorite with everyone.

Valora Eirsman

If personality were only riches,
This pretty miss would be rich as Croesus.

Margaret Louise Evans

If work counts, success is hers,
For in her record you'll find no blurs.

Evelyn Fail

History says Venus lived a long time ago:
N. D. says Venus came to us from Waco.

Robert Finney

A hard worker, a doer of deeds—
But a little frivolous with the ladies.

Maurice Fleetwood

He's always dressed in full attire,
And how the girls do admire!

Sam Gaffield

He has the will to do which brings success,
And he will be satisfied with nothing less.

Jack Gambrill

After he's gone away,
N. D. will miss him each day.

Robert Garretson

Here's a boy you can always trust,
For he is one who does what he must.

Billy Genseke

Quietly he went his way
And learned his lessons every day!

Julia Germany

Usually striking people aren't free from conceit;
But Julia's the exception you'll seldom meet.

Van Glover Gibson

The wonder is, and still the wonder grows,
That her small head can carry all she knows.

Dorman Gleaves

A temper of unclouded ray;
Tomorow's as cheerful as today.

George Gorman

A good fellow and a man—
Always does the best he can.

Exa Greene

Exa did well in her four years at school:
But alas for the classes and every harsh rule!

Roger Greenwell

When duties clash with fun,
They must be left undone.

Hardy Greenwood

He's never dreaming,
Always scheming.

Max Greer

If you are in search of a friend who's sincere,
Look no further, for he is here.

Harold Hall

Doesn't say much, but sees a lot,
When merits are given, he'll not be forgot.

Naneda Hammond

She's always up and ready to go,
And all the gang will tell you so.

Elizabeth Hale

A comrade kind and full of glee,
The kind of girl you like to see.

Bill Heitman

A good looking fellow, and full of pep;
We think he is the best yet.

A. J. Hemphill

All who know him will admit
With the girls he makes a hit.

Minnie Hemphill

She is cute, not very high,
But she's the sort who attracts the eye.

Charles Hill

Hark ye! Here's the teacher's ideal;
How dumb he makes the rest of us feel!

Robert Hill

Here's to a boy who is truly a blond;
Of him we can see why the girls are fond.

Julia Hodgson

Gorgeous big eyes, and literary, too;
With beauty and brains, she's one of the few.

Temple Hoffer

A real senior—before we go,
Is there anything you'd like to know?

Leroy Hoffman

Whether we like them short or tall,
Leroy doth always please us all.

Willie Mavis Holcomb

She has meant much to us from day to day,
And we shall miss her when she's away.

Dorothy Holloway

Our highest dreams have been surpassed,
She's our desire, this sweet little lass.

Mary Sue Hopson

A little nonsense now and then
Is pleasing to the sternest men.

Dorothy Howell

She's tall and stately like a queen,
And her hair has a truly golden sheen.

Mary Jackson

A sense of humor, a contagious smile,
She'll always have it, to the very last mile.

Arthur Jacobsen

He's . . . well,
We think he's swell.

Paul Jamison

All doors open to courtesy,
Here's a polite lad! Don't you agree?

Mildred Johnson

Eyes that sparkle, laugh so gay,
The best we've seen in many a day.

Nell Johnson

Nell is very fair,
Always at ease, and free from care.

Billie Jeanne Jones

Quiet self-sufficient, thank you;
She always has something important to do.

Paul Jones

A thoroughly likeable gentleman:
Find his equal if you can.

Dell Kelty

A girl so different, with a name so different, and who is so utterly charming,
Must surely be Dell, who, we've oft heard tell, has all the girls been alarming.

Dorothy Kinney

To be pretty and friendly is something rare;
But you'll find Dot has plenty to spare.

Virginia Knight

Say, you boys, if you like yours tall,
Step this way: she pleases us all.

Lisbeth Landrum

Whim, winegar, witality, and pep—
Beware, boys, watch your step!

Eugene Locke

I may live without poetry, music, or walking,
But who in the world can live without talking?

Pete Lucas

Always there
Getting his full share.

Virginia Lee Ludwig

Open, generous and candid is she,
What more can you ask than these three?

Houston Lynch

Too quiet to let us know
How likeable a chap can grow.

Margaret Lyon

Although she's rushed and on the go,
She always has a pleasant "Hello."

Mildred Lyon

Without her efficiency,
Where would North Dallas be?

Agnes Maloney

Happy is she who finds her way
Pleasant in things of every day.

Anna Dee Mason

Her airs, her manners, all who saw admired—
Courteous, though coy, and gentle, though retired.

Margaret Mason

Much birth and some madness,
All good and no badness.

Elizabeth Manner

It's nice to be natural,
When you're naturally nice.

Imogene Maxfield

Modest and timid and very sweet,
Just the sort one likes to meet.

Douglas McCain

Douglas is so handsome and so "brawny"
The rest of the stronger sex look "scrawny."

Edwina McDaniel

There's nothing "put-on" about Edwina;
She doesn't assume or pretend.

Maude McDowell

She is natural and friendly and pleasant.

Carl McGee

He's oh, so clever and full of wit
Careful, girls! he's full of "it."

William McMahon

A firm command, and temperate will,
Combined with energy, strength and skill.

Anna Beth McQuade

Just a bit of charm and grace,
To liven up the whole dull place.

Frances Mentesana

Pretty, gentle, amiable and sweet;
Very few people like her you'll meet.

Dolores Metcalf

A more generous girl you couldn't find,
And she's just as sweet as she is kind.

Truett Minton

Not even genius compares with grit,
And a man can't lose if he will not quit.

Ruth Louise Minor

Oh, but my friends, just think of the fun,
When diplomas are given, and the work is done!

Robert Morriss

A willing worker, bent on art,
Always ready to do his part.

Ruth Morton

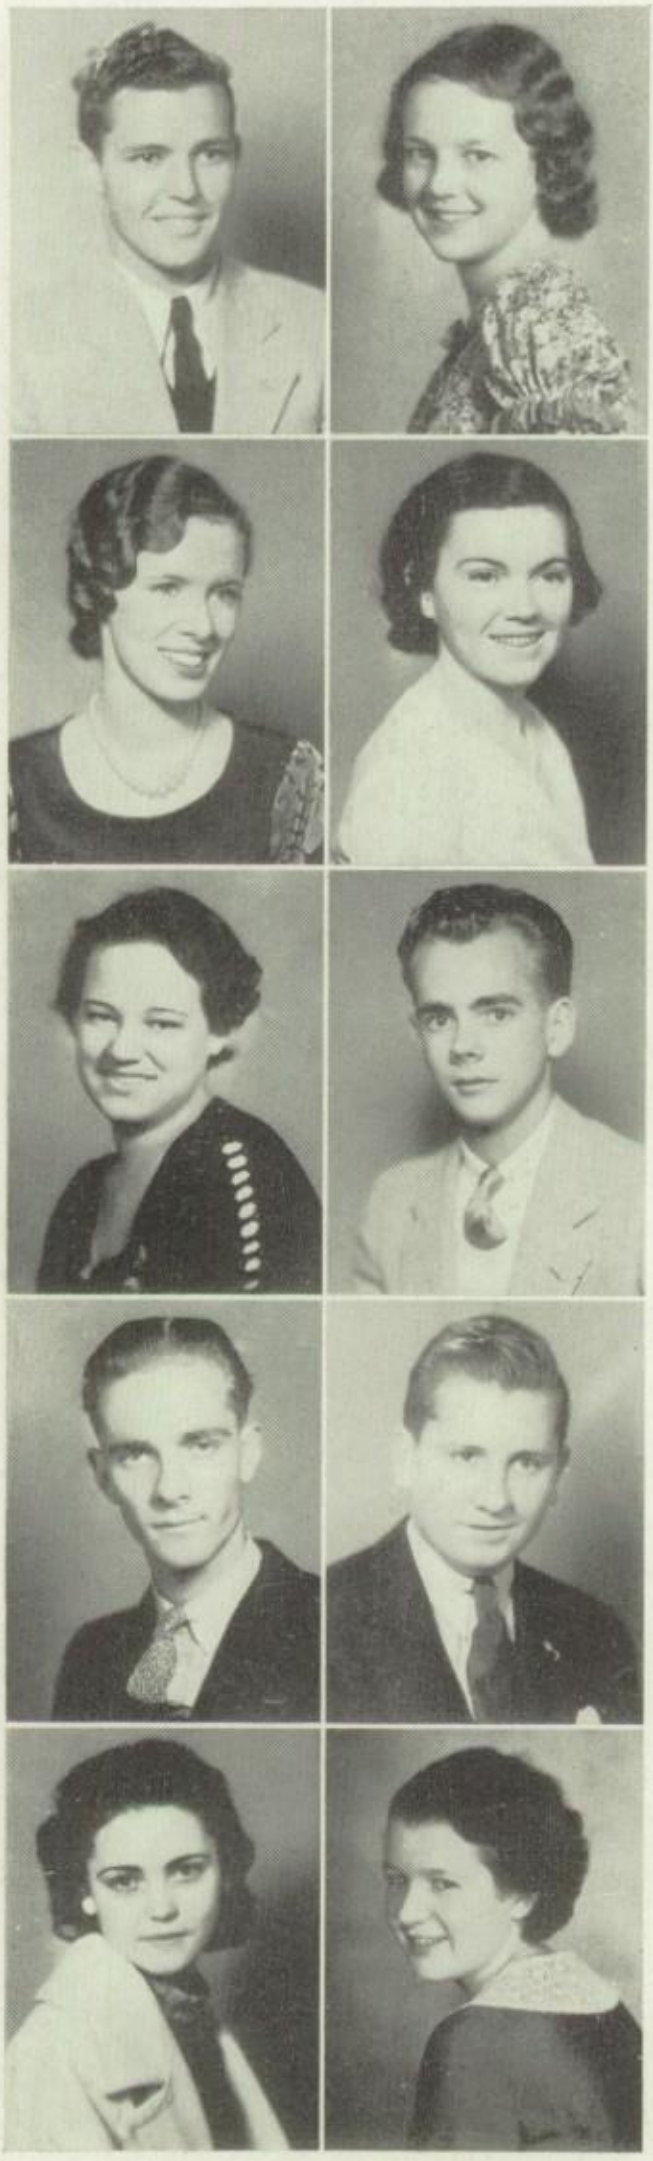
Here's a girl who knows her way
To combine both work and play.

Tom Neighbors

Many admirers, never a foe;
When asked a favor, he never says no.

Wilhellmina Neill

She's just the kind you'll like;
We'll miss her next year, all right.



C. M. Newsom

Look at the curls!
Watch out, girls!

Lois Novey

Eyes so pretty, dress so neat,
You must know Lois, she's very sweet.

Ruth Orr

A picture does not show her hair,
But believe it or not, the red is there

Kathleen O'Shea

Here is a student and a good sport,
Who wins her battles fairly fought.

Josephine Pickett

Always something cheery to say,
We think she'll make her mark some day.

Jacques Phelps

North Dallas' tall blond young man,
Who falls in love as oft as he can.

Houston Plumlee

If a fellow is polite,
You know he is polite.

John C. Read

John's not the kind that's easily beat,
And we're betting on him to never retreat.

Marjorie Reddick

Nice, quiet, and keen,
With desirable boys seen.

Elizabeth Reeves

Elizabeth, so pretty and so sweet,
Is the kind of girl all men seek.

Bob Riddle

He is masculine gender,
With a heart big and tender.

Paul Riefler

He is no man for sorrow,
He lives only for tomorrow.

Nick Roberts

His friends—they are many;
His foes—are there any?

Winifred Robertson

To know her is indeed a treat,
Because of her charm and nature sweet.

Roy Robinson

I march the lobby, twirl my stick,
The girls all cry "He's quite the kick."

Mattie Kate Rogers

Awfully efficient, and good-looking, too;
She does the work we others don't do.

George Rosser

One of those strong, silent creatures,
Whose emotions are not betrayed by a twitch of his features.

Mary Rowland

If you want to do some mischief, and don't know just how,
Just ask Mary; at that she's a wow.

Joe Rucker

He is not too smart to be very nice;
He liked Latin so well that he took it twice!

Bill Sailers

He is gentle, he is shy—
But there is mischief in his eye.

Elsa Sanger

In making some students, Fate hath decreed
To make some good, but a few to exceed.

Adelaide Scanland

She's keen—a good sport, and all
That's what we mean.

Phyllis Schoonmaker

She is capable in every way,
Responsibility is play.

Fred Scott

Fred finished high school in more than four years,
In truth we extend him a heartfelt three cheers.

Vernon Schumacher

An unassuming young male,
Never heard his lot to bewail.

Marvin Simpson

Since talk is his one delight,
He'll always be under the spot-light.

Mary Fae Simrell

She has a disposition gay,
And scatters sunshine by the way.

Joe Smartt

A football man am I
Woe to the enemy!

Houston Smith

O what a happy world is this,
If all the work we could but miss!

J. P. Smith

Many, 'tis true, possess my name
But few can equal me in fame.

Margaret Smith

Margaret, pretty, patient, meek,
Is the kind of girl some men will seek.

Myra Smith

The joy of living, and striving to win
Are your treasures, Myra, to guard to the end.

Gerard Soelter

Oh those eyes, that complexion, that hair—
Of course she has a different air.

Jim Souter

See the picture of this boy?
He's many a girl's handsome joy.

Nettie Sparks

Sweet and gentle, quiet, demure:
Ways that have a pleasant allure.

O. E. St. Clair

Not all brawn and no brain,
But rather good at raising Cain.

John Stevens

He has worked for this class for many a year,
And in our hearts has made himself dear.

Alba Stroup

To her, life is not too long
For, now and then, some fun and song.

Mary Jane Sweatman

She has a warm spot in every heart,
For everyone knows that she's the right sort.

Emeline Talbert

A wee little mite
As high as my heart.

Catherine Tankel

Her active mind and sparkling brown eyes,
In brightness truly harmonize.

Frances Tate

Frances is liked by all her classmates,
And maybe you think she can't get the dates!

Mildred Taylor

Oh those smiles and those eyes!
Be careful! I'm putting you wise.

Elizabeth Teagarden

She is liked everywhere;
Maybe the cause is her red hair.

Charles Thompson

Prince of courtesy, proud and strong,
And willing to admit, if ever he's wrong.

Marie Thompson

She pleases to be good,
As all ladies should.

Julia Thomson

To know her is to love her;
Friendliness makes her character.

Elizabeth Tucker

"Carpe diem" crys this miss,
Grasping the moment's happiness.

Ethel Vallin

Devoted, generous, void of guile,
And her heart's welcome in her smile.

Catherine Van Sickle

The work that so many ne'er do
Can only be done by a lassie like you.

Amy Jo Vaughan

Can she dance?
Just give her half a chance!

Edna Vinson

Peppy and pretty and full of dare;
When you're around her, you'll forget every care.

Catherine Vogel

Or light or dark, or short or tall,
She sets a spring to snare them all.

Jack Walker

Jack is the athlete of our crowd,
Another Senior of whom we are proud.

J. B. Waskom

Of his success there is small doubt,
And the girls will get him if he doesn't watch out.

Cecil Wallis

Little, but sparkling, full of life
She will make someone a pretty nice wife.

Mildred Wainscott

Talking as an indoor sport,
Seems to be this lady's forte.

Aletha Lee Webb

She has beauty, and brains, and grace and fun,
Charm and personality rolled into one.

Susie Lee Wells

Do you know that a girl is here
Who's sweet and pretty and very dear?

Virginia White

Here is one with the old-fashioned lure:
Modest, sweet, and prettily demure.

Jack Walker

NELL WHITLOW

Quiet, too, but her ambition
Will lead her to a high position.

GROVER WILKINS

A handsome member of the R. O. T. C.
An officer for all to see.

MARY LORRAINE WILLIS

A nature gay, she's quite alarming,
And when she smiles she's really charming.

ELSON WILLIAMS

A boy who never scorns to fight,
Whene're a cause is for the right.

CLIO WILLIAMSON

Pep, punch, and personality,
The very spark of geniality.

GEORGE WORKS

I may be a long fellow, but I'm not a poet!

MARJORIE WRIGHT

A girl with an attractive smile,
Who knows it is always worth the while.

ALVERA YOUNGQUIST

In North Dallas she'll always have a place
For who could forget that charming face?

ANNABELLE KING

She's rather quiet, and sweet, and terribly coy;
'Tis enough to wreak destruction on any human boy.

RICHARD SHEHANE

He is very accommodating,
In our eyes a high rating.

Class of January, 1933

OFFICERS

JOE FITZSIMMONS . . . . . President

EUGENE LOCKE . . . . . Vice-President

BETTY MCGAFFEY . . . . . Secretary

ALLEN JOHNSTON . . . . . Treasurer

C. M. NEWSOM . . . . . Sergeant-at-Arms

Eleanor Arkle

I'm me—
That's quite enough, you see.

Jack Brady

A comedian, a comrade and a hearty friend;
A place in our hearts he's sure to win.

Blanchard Boyer

He's musical and tall,
Six feet? That's not quite all.

Thomas Browning

A very good friend is Tom,
And a most pleasant companion.

Anderson Carter

Not afraid of labor,
But not in sympathy with 'er.

Harry Crump

Harry always plays a good game,
And has already won success and fame.

Lawrence Davis

A friend when you're in need
Is a good friend indeed.

Marjorie Downs

The funniest and jolliest ever,
And oh how sweet and how clever!

Eva Ellis

To a certain one that she has met
A bold and a dashing coquette.

Evelyn Farmer

Of all our friends in years to come,
Surely Evelyn will be a cherished one.

Sam Freedman

A lieutenant big and loud
Who is always with a crowd.

Athol Frew

Athol's grin and good humor is certainly a blessing,
There are so many long faces in the present depression.

Bobby Gottschall

He may not be as big as his name,
But he's all there just the same.

Gordon Hebert

He really is a great kid;
We're sure in life he'll never skid.

O. H. Hood, Jr.

A boy with a grave mathematical look
Who could find the circumference of any nook.

Clyde Hyden

Come back in half an hour or so,
And hear another one I know.

Sim T. Lake, Jr.

An officer who feels the dignity
Of Uncle Sam's R. O. T. C.

Irene Martinez

Brilliant, vivacious, friendly and sweet:
A combination surely that cannot be beat.

Freeman Mittenthal

Each step he makes is toward fame;
We know this by his good chess game.

Bill Moody

Bill's so likeable and full of fun
To be with him an hour is just a minute begun.

MAX MORRISON

Sometimes he stayed in Detention Hall,
But nevertheless he is liked by all.

EDWARD MUELLER

E&Mueller

A good fellow is Ed;
Need any more be said?

TURNER NESBITT

Folks life him you don't often find,
And once you know him, he's foremost in mind.

LOUISE PIRTLE

Shakespeare once aptly said
A quiet voice in woman is indeed well-bred.

HOWARD RHYNER

Howard Rhyner

A short young fellow and jolly,
Who is always fond of folly.

Marjorie Robinson

MARJORIE ROBINSON

Such winning ways and mellow voice,
Would make you anybody's choice.

JOHN ROUNTREE

He rattles on at such a pace,
It makes life just a merry race.

PETE SCHURBA

A likeable chap is Pete,
Often pleasant to meet.

MARION SPAKE

With all her personality, and all her stylish ways,
It'll be hard to replace her when from us she strays.

H. H. SPENCER

Here is a fellow who spends his days,
In happy-go-lucky North Dallas ways.

Louise Sterner

Tall and slender, a girl that's grand,
To her the honors you'll have to hand.

John Tipton

If you don't know this boy, it's just too bad,
For he's one of the best North Dallas has had.

Eugene Tobey

He has an able and a steadfast mind,
And even to the frosh he's kind.

Fred Wilkins

We like him more and more each day;
We don't know why—it's just his way.

R. G. Phillips

Popular, smart, witty, neat;
Most of the girls think he's pretty sweet.

Gordon Rumfelt

A quiet chap, deservedly well-liked.

BULLDOGS PULL UPSET, BEATING McKINNEY 13-0

DINNER HONORS '32 LETTERMEN

The Dads' Club and military department of North Dallas High School honored the lettermen of the first team with a dinner and program last Thursday evening in the school cafeteria and auditorium.

During the banquet the following North Dallas lettermen were presented by Coach Guy Allen:

Allen Johnson, Maurice Hanks, Marion Mosley, Jimmie Barber, Charles Thompson, Jesse Davis, manager, C. M. Newsom, L. A. McShan, Harry English, Bill Heitman, Joe Fitzsimmons, Jack Hall, Kenneth Hauskins, Henry Boll, Granville Berry, E. W. Brake, Fred Graham, and Jack Walker.

In the auditorium, the Glee Club presented four songs, and Mr. George Matthews of Wales talked on "World Peace."

Mr. Louis Lacy of the Travelers Assurance Company gave two humorous readings.

Prizes were given to ticket salesmen as follows:

Marvin Simpson, first prize, $3; Edward Sammons, second prize, $2. Prizes of $1 were presented to Harry English, Roswell Paine, Mr. Louis Lacy, Lanier Storey, and Mr. Marvin Simpson, father of the first prize winner.

Walker and Graham Lead the Bulldogs to Victory.

TECH GO TONIGHT

Bulldogs Polish Blocking and Tackling in Hard Practice Session.

Fresh from a 13 to 0 victory over the McKinney Lions last Friday, the North Dallas Bulldogs await the whistle which will send them against the strong Dallas Tech Wolves tonight at Fair Park Stadium, the first game in the city series for both teams.

Comparing early season scores, the Wolves will go into the game tonight heavy favorites to whip the Canines soundly. Tech has played two games, beating Palestine, 2 to 0 and then trouncing Paul Tyson's highly touted Waco Tigers, 6 to 0, in one of the biggest upsets this season.

On the other hand, North Dallas took it on the nose from Greenville, 24 to 0, then turned around and showed a complete reversal of form to whip McKinney, 13 to 0.

Last year the Bulldogs went into the game against Tech doped to lose by two touchdowns, but with that fight so characteristic of Coach Guy Allen's teams, they battled the Wolves off their feet to tie them, in the last seven seconds of play, 13 to 13. That slogan of "A Bulldog Never Quits" is carried on the field in the heart of every man that wears the Orange and White of North Dallas, and they all bear it out, says their coach.

Seniors Begin Algebra With Throes of Agony

"If x equals three, then three x—Say, what is the number above the x? Expotent? Never heard of it. What did he say about three cubed, mother? Well, if I don't ask you questions about what George said when I didn't hear it, how am I to know what he said? If I don't know what he said, how can I work my algebra problems? If I can't work algebra problems, how can I pass algebra? If I don't pass algebra, how can I graduate? If I don't graduate . . .

"Aw right, I'll shut up. I never can say anything around this house, anyway.

"Mo-th-er, make George come in here and help me. Why? Because it's just been one term since he had Algebra 3 and it's been ages since I had it. Well, what if he is studying? You always make me stop what I'm doing to help him. Yeah, jes 'cause he's the baby. His ole Spanish could wait, I'd say. O.K. I'll flunk algebra; then you'll be sorry you petted George.

"George! Mother says for you to come help me this minute. Now that you're in here you can stop screaming. I have these twenty-five problems for tomorow and you jes work 'em while I . . . What! Mother, George won't work my algebra problems. But you said . . . Daddy, I wasn't hollerin'. Bet you never had to work algebra.

"Well, I didn't mean to talk back.

"What's the use? I can't study with the whole family hollerin' at me. I'm going to bed."

Thus ended one senior's renewed struggle with the greatest terror to the candidates for graduation—Algebra 4.

Cast Repeats Play By Special Request At North Dallas Hi

"That Ferguson Family," by Chenery, January '33 class play repeated by special request Tuesday, January 17, in the auditorium, was received by an enthusiastic and approving audience composed almost entirely of students.

Louise Nesbitt played a dual role, that of Mary Fleming, ingenue, and Mrs. Sarah Thorne, village gossip, in a most convincing manner, displaying pleasing versatility. This was an innovation in North Dallas, the first time one person has played two roles.

Mertie and Fred Ferguson are the parents of three children, Lavie, Laura, and Joe, who have arrived at the age when they want to assert their independence and be treated as self-respecting, grown children should be. Mertie, the mother, cross, cynical, satirical, tries to do as she sees right, but only interferes with her children's plans and love affairs in such a manner as to arouse complications. She at times leaves the impression of being just "plain horrid", but she is only displaying the courage of her own convictions and doing as she sees best, breaking slowly as the play proceeds. Angela Franklin was superb in this role.

David Thompson, who was ill with the "flu" during the first presentation, came back to play the part of Bert Connelly.

The other characters were portrayed in a smooth, easy style, with the enthusiastic audience reacting to comedy more than to the few serious moments.

As a whole, "That Ferguson Family" was a good, entertaining play presented by a competent cast.

Leonard Gay Plays For North Dallas

Leonard Gay, North Dallas graduate, January, '29, played in the school assembly last Thursday four numbers from the concert he gave with the A. Cappella Singers under the direction of Miss Ruth Johnstone Curtis at the Highland Park Town Hall on Monday, January 2.

The numbers wers: "Golliwog's Cake Walk," Debussy; "Improvisation," MacDowell; "Humoreske," Rachmaninoff; "Diversion 4," Carpenter.

The program offered by Leonard Gay and the A Cappella Singers on January 2 was the following:

As Torrents in Summer ..... Elgar
Beautiful Savior ..... Arr. Christianson
Czechoslovakian Dance Song ..... Arr. Manney
A Cappella Singers

Andante with Variations ..... Haydn
Bouree ..... Bach-Saint-Saens
Prelude in E Minor ..... Chopin
Berceuse ..... Chopin
Scherzo in C Sharp Minor ..... Chopin
Mr. Gay

Were You There? ..... Burleigh
Ezekiel Saw De Wheel ..... Burleigh
Listen to the Lambs ..... Dett
A Cappella Singers

Golliwog's Cake Walk ..... Debussy
Humoresque ..... Rachmaninov
The Little White Donkey ..... Ibert
Diversion No. IV ..... Carpenter
Improvisation ..... MacDowell
Rakoczy March ..... Liszt
Mr. Gay

Carol of the Russian Children ..... Gaul
The Shepherd's Story ..... Dickinson
A Capela Singers

Leonard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gay, 3219 Bowser, and is a fellowship pupil at the Chicago Conservatory of Music. While he was a student in Dallas, he won in contest the piano now on the Woodrow Wilson stage.

Students from North Dallas in the A Cappella Singers are Betty Covington and Willie Mavis Holcomb.

Vance Newell Makes Staff of Yale News

Additional honors have recently come to Charles Vance Newell, North Dallas, June, '31, now a sophomore at Yale University, New Haven, Conn.

Vance has just been added to the staff of the Yale News, and according to word received here, has been awarded a second scholarship in the university. He received the first scholarship when he took the entrance examinations as a freshman in 1931.

To become a member of the Yale News staff in such a short time is considered an unusual accomplishment, since admittance is highly competitive.

While attending North Dallas, Vance distinguished himself in many fields. He was a major in R.O.T.C., editor of the Viking, and member of the Norther staff. He was elected to membership in the National Honor Society and in the Quill and Scroll, International Honorary Society for High School Journalists. He was also a member of the 1931 debate team.

Yuletide Spirit Will Prevail Today When Cantata Presented

Teachers, Pupils and Ex-Students, Directed by Curtis, Will Sing in Special Assembly.

Bringing in the Yuletide with Christmas hymns, carolers will sing throughout the halls of North Dallas High this morning as soon as classes meet, and at assembly time a candle-lighted procession of choristers will go singing down the aisles, gather on the stage, and sing "The Manger King."

Miss Ruth Johnstone Curtis, of the North Dallas music department, will direct the cantata, her fifth annual presentation in the school.

Public Speaking Club Adopts Constitution

The Adelphi Forensic Club, sponsored by S. Stanley Knapp, teacher of speech arts in North Dallas High School, organized last Thursday with thirty new members, adopted a constitution, and elected officers.

Officers are as follows: Jack Chase, president; Dorothy Holloway, vice-president; Nellie Cummings, secretary; and Marvin Simpson, treasurer.

The club is a chapter of the National Forensic League, an honorary society for public speakers. The Adelphi chapter applied for its charter in the League last spring.

The committee on a constitution met at the sponsor's home last Wednesday and drew up a constitution which was submitted to the club Thursday at their regular meeting in room 105 after school.

Thirty new members—ten seniors, five juniors, seven sophomores, and eight freshmen—signed the constitution.

The members are as follows: Jack Chase, Hazel Elkins, Carolyn Banister, Jean Hall, Billy Billings, John Ahern, Marvin Simpson, William Gibson Jr., Anne Pullman, Sam Freedman, Sim Lake, Mary Alice Levan, Dorothy Holloway, Ruby Casper, Nellie Cummings, Catherine Vogel, Bob Whittington, Adolph Beneke, Dudley Brutsche, Fred Graham, Catherine Ball, Constance Sherman, Frances Bennett, Wilson Phillips, Elizabeth Beneke, Howard Rhyner, Eugene Locke, Katherine Backer, Elizabeth Yeargen.

Mr. Knapp has started the club at work on the Interscholastic League debate question and has planned to start practice debates immediately after Christmas. The question is: "Resolved, That at least one-half of all state and local revenues in Texas should be derived from sources other than taxes on tangible property."

The seven original charter members graduated last June, but Mr. Knapp believes the club will grow in great numbers, students already showing enthusiasm in this work, he says.

SCHOOL BOARD STARTS JUNIOR HIGH SYSTEM

Boude Storey Junior High in Trinity Heights to Open Jan. 30, with Faculty Already Selected.

Bringing a new educational advancement to the city of Dallas, the Boude Storey Junior High School in Trinity Heights will be ready for acceptance by the Board of Education December 1. The school will be opened January 30 with an expected enrollment of 530 pupils.

The Boude Storey school has been planned under the direction of Dr. N. R. Crozier, superintendent of schools; E. B. Cauthorn, assistant superintendent; L. V. Stockard, supervisor of high schools; and the Board of Education, composed of Alexander W. Spence, W. J. Powell, Mrs. W. P. Zumwalt, L. O. Donald, Dr. David W. Carter, Jr., Mrs. W. A. Leeper, and Zeese Starr Armstrong.

As a tribute to the efficiency with which the new school is being assimilated, and especially of the personnel management of assistant superintendent E. B. Cauthorn, was Dr. N. R. Crozier's announcement that the opening of the new school will require no additions to the teaching personnel of the system.

The Board of Education controls the schools; its members are elected at large by public vote for a period of six years, with overlapping terms.

There are six white high schools in Dallas with a total enrollment of 10,000; one colored high school, with 1,265; forty-eight white elementary schools, with 28,-295; twelve colored elementary schools, with 5,038; and the Boude Storey Junior High in Trinity Heights to open at mid-term.

The Federal Office of Education reported Sunday, November 13, that Texas leads all other states in the number of high schools, having 1,400 high schools from among 23,930 in the nation.

SIXTEEN ENTER HONOR SOCIETY

Sixteen North Dallas students outstanding in scholarship, leadership, service, and character were initiated into the Viking Chapter of National Honor Society last Thursday in the school auditorium.

Members of the 4A class who were initiated are Doris Walker, Helen Drake, Betty Edmondson, Hector Mackay, and John Osborne.

From the 4B class are Elsa Sanger, Kathleen O'Shea, Virginia Bradley, Bob Riddle, James Brake, and Eugene Locke.

The 3A's are Iline Moodie, Edna Vinson, Irene Martinez, and Freeman Mittenthal.

Edwin Cage was the only 3B initiated.

The faculty committee who investigated the records and recommendations and supervised the selection of the new members is composed of Miss Adele Epperson, Mrs. Myrtle Clopton, Miss Ruth Crawford, Miss Floy Agnew, Miss Elizabeth Dice, Mr. Charles L. Syron, Miss Sarah Meriwether, and Mr. J. Frank Turner.

Anna Margaret Willoughby, president of the organization, and E. W. Brake, vice-president, took part in the initiation. Lillian Young, secretary, told the audience of the purpose of the society. Dudley Brutsche talked on the cornerstone and the symbols of the pin. Joe E. Ward gave the qualities necessary for eligibility.

The National Honor Society is an organization which serves somewhat the same purpose in the secondary schools as the Phi Beta Kappa in the colleges. It was originated by the National Association of Secondary-School Principals at the Atlantic City meeting in February, 1921.

Philosophians Planning Memorial for C. W. Hill

Planning a memorial plaque in honor of the late Clyde Walton Hill, its founder, the Philosophian Literary Society has appointed James Hopkins and Robert Knight to arrange for the design, purchase, and placement of the memorial in the North Dallas corridors.

Mr. Hill, teacher and poet, was the originator of the Philosophians and sponsored it from 1924 until his death in February, 1931. Marion M. Myers, teacher of social sciences, was elected by the club last year to succeed Mr. Hill.

The club meets weekly in room 110 for the purpose of studying parliamentary law, debate, and oratory, but allows every fourth program to be one of special interest and amusement to the members.

The club consists of nineteen boys, with officers as follows: Edwin Cage, president; James Hopkins, vice-president; Roswell Paine, secretary; Leonard Berkley, treasurer; Tom Harris, sergeant-at-arms.

C. E. Atkinson Elected To Honors in Chicago

That C. E. Atkinson, June '32, Buddy to most people, has just been elected to membership in the Freshman Student Council of the University of Chicago has been reported by his young brother, David.

Buddy has been w o r k i n g his way through the university, where he is studying architectural engineering.

North Dallas Wins Thrift Deposit Award

Adding to the already imposing array of trophies in the front corridor, North Dallas carried off the cup for thrift deposits, and S. Stanley Knapp's first period class in public speaking took the room cup for thrift deposits awarded by the Republic National Bank.

These trophies are awarded to the high school having the greatest number of consistent depositors, and to the room having the largest total deposit of all the rooms in the Dallas high schools for the spring and fall semesters.

North Dallas had 149 consistent depositors for the fall semester, as against 101 consistent depositors for the spring term. The total amount deposited is $1,176.51. The biggest account in North Dallas amounts to almost $650.

The students of the Dallas schools have amassed a total deposit of over $160,000 and deposited in round numbers $12,000 more than in the term just closed.

"My home room was not particularly trying for this trophy," Mr. Knapp remarked. "It is in the regular business of the class to be 100 per cent in thrift."

Pan-American League Opens With Banquet

A banquet in the junior ballroom of Stoneleigh Court, Thursday night, November 10, marked the first meeting of the Dallas Pan-American League for the year 1932-1933. The invocation was offered by W. H. Butler of Forest Avenue High School.

The entertainment was furnished by adult members. The program included "El Jarabe Tapatio" by Miss Peggy Claire Cobb, two selections by the male quartet of Masonic Temple, a violin duet by Misses Minnie Mae Fisher and Katharine Graves.

Henry Widdecke, Senor Antonio Campdera, David Weinstein, L. V. Stockard were speakers for the evening.

The League will have as their guests March 23-25, 1933, four thousand members of the Pan-American Medical Association which will convene in Dallas at that time.

School membership has been raised from twenty to thirty members. Miriam Beaird and Temple Hoffer, North Dallas students, are secretary and a member of the Board of Directors, respectively. The next meeting will be held December 8.

French Departments Presents Two Plays

Miss Helen Sandel, teacher of French in North Dallas High School, presented her French classes in a program of French plays last Friday afternoon in the North Dallas High School auditorium to an audience composed of teachers and pupils of French from the various high schools of the city.

A musical comedy, "Vous Venez A Propos, Madame," was first presented by the French 2 class. The characters were rather afraid of their lines; however, Phyllis Hadra and Joan Evans knew their lines and spoke them with conviction. The characters: Madame Aulard, Phyllis Hadra; Madame Dupre, Joan Evans; saleslady, Lorraine Smith; and Mr. Dupre, Edwin Cage.

Waiter: Leonard Berkley.

Waitresses: Dixie Ruth Hoyle, Martha Hogg, Doris Taylor.

Singers: Jewel Scott, La Verne Mohler.

Diners: Paul Jones, Elsa Sanger, Bess Sheppard, Martha Murray, Helen Fae Moorman, William Hunter.

Orchestra: Virginia Avery, Billy Pullman, Clifford Biglowe, and James Simpson.

During the intermission between the two plays, two songs were sung by the members of the French classes. As "Sur Le Pont d' Avignon" was sung, it was pantomimed by costumed soldiers, ladies, priests, and children.

For the second play, "L'Ete De La Saint-Martin" was portrayed by the French 5 class.

The characters were: Mr. Briquerville, Virginia Bradley; Noel, Sandal Dailey; Adrienne, Lillian Young; Madame Lebreton, Margaret Evans; and Maid, Kathleen Lake.

177 Students Average High to Get on Honor Roll Second Division

Number on List Shows Increase Over First Six Weeks—High Honor Pupils Doubled.

The list of honor students for the second six weeks shows an increase of twenty-five over the number who made the honor roll last division. This time there were 177 whose grades averaged 90 or more; whereas the first six weeks report showed 152.

Among the 177 students on the entire honor roll, 36 made an average of 95 or above. This is more than twice as many as made the high honor roll last division.

Miss Murray Selects Staff of 1932 Viking

Tentative positions on the staff of the Viking, the year book of North Dallas High School have been announced by Miss Marion Murray, faculty sponsor.

Temple Hoffer, however, has been selected definitely as editor-in-chief. Temple, a senior, has attained the rank of major in the R. O. T. C.

The personals staff includes Miriam Beaird, Minnie Hemphill, Julia Germany, Julya Thompson, and Sandal Dailey.

Jimmie Barber and Granville Berry will handle athletics. David Thompson will report R. O. T. C. activities.

Jokes editor will probably be Miriam Beaird.

The business staff is not ready, according to C. L. Ford, sponsor.

Although it is necessary to cut expenses, Miss Murray states that the staff is planning improvements on last year's Viking.

NORTH DALLAS GRADUATES 82 BOYS AND GIRLS

Forty-three Boys and Forty-nine Girls Make Their Last Appearance as January Graduating Class.

GIRLS TAKE HONORS

Lillian Young Leads Seven Honor Girls with 96.36 Average—John Osborne High Boy with 93.08.

In realization of one of the important events in their lives, forty-three boys and thirty-nine girls were graduated from North Dallas High School Friday evening, January 27, in the school auditorium.

The officers of this, the twentieth class to leave North Dallas, are Dudley Brutsche, president; Billie Russell, vice-president; Lillian Young, secretary; Granville Berry, treasurer; Miss Helen Sandel, sponsor.

The graduation exercises were begun with Clifford Bigelow directing the North Dallas orchestra in "The Bridal Rose Overture." Allen Schrodt played a cornet solo.

Reverend William Polhamus, pastor of the First Methodist Church, gave the invocation.

Durene Lee, second high honor graduate, spoke on "Overproduction." The Paris Peace Pact was the subject of Dudley Brutsche's speech. Henry G. Abbott gave his opinion of the Five Year Plan.

A senior chorus composed of Anna Margaret Willoughby, Willie Mavis Holcomb, Patricia Mathews, Louise Nesbitt, Marian Parr, Evelyn Jones, Jack Lallier, Dudley Brutsche, Alex Burr, with Betty Covington, accompanist, sang "Song of Farewell," by Kountz.

Principal Announces Marriage of Daughter

E. B. Comstock, principal of North Dallas, and Mrs. Comstock, 6218 Bryan Parkway, announce the marriage of their daughter Helen to Gerald Huff, of Urbana, Illinois, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Huff of Oklahoma City, Sunday morning at the home of the bride's parents on Christmas day.

Mrs. Huff was graduated from North Dallas in January, 1928. She was a charter member of the North Dallas chapter of the National Honor Society.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Huff are graduates of Southern Methodist University. Mrs. Huff is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority. Since her graduation last June she lent her services as assistant in the North Dallas High School office.

Mr. Huff is now an instructor of mathematics in the University of Illinois, where he is studying for his doctor of philosophy degree.

Delphians Entertain With Juvenile Party

A "kid party" was given by the Delphian Literary Club of North Dallas High School at the home of Exa Greene, 5638 Morningside Drive, Monday evening, October 10, at eight o'clock.

Guests were entertained by dancing and games. Decorations were of orange and white. Punch and animal crackers were served.

Members and guests present numbered about forty.

Officers of the club are: President, Anna Margaret Willoughby; vice-president, Lillian Young; secretary, Marian Parr; treasurer, Exa Greene; faculty sponsor, Mrs. Myrtle Whiteley.

Miss Epperson's World War Exhibit Interests Students and Teachers

A gruesome exhibit of shells, guns, gas-masks, pictures, and various other relics of the World War located just outside the North Dallas library draws the wondering attention of North Dallas boys and girls each time they pass through the corridors to and from classes.

The collection is lent to the North Dallas military department by Miss Adele Apperson, member of the English faculty and former Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. worker in Europe. Miss Epperson started the collection abroad. Several additional articles have been added by Harry Crump and Temple Hoffer, students in North Dallas.

Miss Epperson was in Europe in 1918 and 1919 as a relief worker for the Y. M. C. A. camps "over there." She collected most of the relics right from the battlefields of France and Belgium, but some of them were given to her by Yankee doughboys.

The German machine-gun in the lower section has proved to be the point of greatest interest. It was given to Miss Epperson by an American soldier and shipped to the United States after the war.

A German prisoner showed Miss Epperson how to assemble the gun, and she dissembled it, packed it, and then re-assembled the parts after it had arrived in America.

To look at the intricate and complicated mechanism of this deadly weapon, one may see that Miss Epperson performed a feat which would make any "soldier boy" proud of himself.

Many interesting snap-shots taken by Miss Epperson or given to her by the soldiers, may also be seen on display. She has pictures of such famous battlefields as Verdun and the Argonne, and many other interesting and educational features of the war.

"These pictures," she said, "although small, best describe the battlefields of France."

The American helmet in the case was worn by Miss Epperson herself in France, and was camouflaged by an American soldier.

One inquisitive freshman asked whether the two chevrons on the front of the helmet indicated that she was a corporal. Miss Epperson says these stripes do not indicate rank but do indicate two s x-months of service.

"The inferiority of French equipment to that of the Germans may well be noted in the structure of that country's gas-masks," declared Miss Epperson. "However, I should hate to have any of those French shells burst near me."

Students are invited to view the exhibit. Anyone possessing anything of similar interest may notify Miss Epperson and she will be glad to place it on display.

The Adelphi Forensic Club was formed under the sponsorship of Mr. Knapp for the purpose of stimulating interest in and broadening the debating activities at North Dallas. In the past only two boys and two girls have received experience in debating during any school year. With the Adelphi Club as a starting point, six girls and eight boys have received sufficient debating experience this year in debates with schools from various parts of the state that they have become eligible to membership in the National Forensic League, a national honorary society among high schools. North Dallas will have at least eight boys and girls to start debating next year who have had experience in inter-school debates.

The Pan-American League was organized November 10, 1927, by a group of Spanish and history teachers and advanced students of Spanish. The League's aim is to promote a closer relationship, sympathy, and understanding among the peoples of America.

Dallas is the original chapter of the League and has granted charters to eleven other high schools in this hemisphere. The Pan-American League has received the official sanction of the Pan-American Union at Washington and of the Mexican government.

Last year the League held sessions with the Southwest Foreign Trade Conference and this year there will be meetings with the Pan-American Medical Congress. There will be the first national convention of the League held here March 23-25.

North Dallas has two officers in the League at present, Miriam Beaird, secretary, and Temple Hoffer, a member of the board of directors. Miss Edna Hinde, our local sponsor, has devoted her efforts untiringly to make our unit a success.

Mrs. Sarah Thorne	Louise Nesbitt

In spite of the icy weather of the night of December 17, and the comparatively small attendance, the group who saw the presentation of "That Ferguson Family," presented by the January Senior Class, under the direction of S. Stanley Knapp, made the affair a success. "That Ferguson Family," like so many senior plays, was hailed as one of the best ever given, and the crowd made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers. Frank Cowart and Angela Franklin stole the acting honors for the evening, although the whole cast did excellent work. The stage sets were adequately handled by Henry Boll.

Under the direction of S. Stanley Knapp, the class of June, 1933, is preparing to present a three-act comedy, "The Red-Headed Stepchild," by Charles George.

The story concerns Bess Russell, who has lived all her life on a large western ranch with her uncle. After his death, she comes to Chicago to live with her father and his family. Mrs. Russell and Lucia are cold and haughty, and contrive, in every possible way, to make Bess feel like an outsider. Dudley, Mr. Russell and George understand, and sympathize with the charming hoyden, and try to make her life as happy as possible.

Bess finally decides to go back where people are human beings. She learns that her father is in financial difficulties, and aids him with the dividends of some of the stock she has inherited from her uncle. Mrs. Russell and Lucia wake up to the fact that Bess is a lovable girl in spite of her ignorance as to which knife or fork to use. Lucia, when she discovers that Bess and George are in love, gives them her blessing; and Bess takes George out west to make a real cowboy of him.

The term 1932-33 has been the most successful year for the military department since North Dallas High School began. The corps has shown marked improvement in every department over that of last year. Lieutenant Colonel Russell Woinowsk was the regimental commander for the fall term, and during the term, the regiment was commended for its efficiency by Colonel Wade. The regiment should be able to improve greatly with Lieutenant Colonel Temple Hoffer in command for the spring term. The North Dallas regiment ranked third on the officers' inspection; on general efficiency of the regiment North Dallas also ranked third.

Crack company competition for this year will be held May 13. The officers have not yet been selected, but the hopes of North Dallas of winning this competition are great.

The rifle team, under the supervision of Sergeant Bulloch came out second in the city, with Second Lieutenant Dale Elliott in a tie with Lieutenant Dickason of Technical High School for individual first place.

The regiment as a whole has increased each year greatly over the preceding year in efficiency, under the able supervision of the commandant, Captain Harry E. Menezes. The corps wishes to congratulate you, sir, on fine work.

The 1932 Football Season

This year North Dallas opened the season with a green and inexperienced team. With only four letter men, Coaches Allen and Fulton had a difficult task to build up a team which could meet the opposition of teams of other Dallas high schools.

Having lost their only veteran linesman, Boll, through injuries, the Bulldogs were defeated by the Greenville Lions, 24-0; and the defeat was doubled when in the last few minutes of play Captain Berry received a broken arm which kept him out for the rest of the season.

Undaunted by the loss to Greenville, North Dallas defeated McKinney 13-0, at McKinney. In this game every man did his best, and each deserves much credit. Outstanding men were Walker, Graham, Barber, Thompson, and Krutilek.

The following week the Bulldogs lost their first district game to Dallas Tech, 14-7; and again each man on the team fought gamely to the very end. Especially fine work was done by Mosley, Walker, Barber, and Brake. Following this defeat came another by the highly touted Oak Cliff Leopards, 37-6.

The next week the Bulldogs, without Walker, who was injured in the Oak Cliff game, were beaten by the powerful Sherman team, at Sherman, 45-0. In the game with the Forest Lions, played in a drizzling rain, North Dallas lost again, 32-12. Walker, Goodson, Barber and Graham played outstanding games, and again each boy on the team fought to the very end of the game.

The next game was with Sunset, and although the Bulldogs showed a fighting spirit, the Bisons won, 13-7. Fine work was done by Boll, Brake, Krutilek, Heitman, Walker and Barber. The season ended with a victory by the city champions, Woodrow Wilson, 32-0. Walker, Boll, Moore, Brake, Fitzsimmons, Barber, English and Johnston, playing their last game for North Dallas, put everything they had into the game, but were unable to stop the powerful Wildcat team.

The North Dallas team, although it cinched the cellar position, fought hard in every game, played with a fine spirit of loyalty to the school, and developed some good players. Jack Walker, an outstanding man on the team, was picked to play on the All City team this year.

The Baseball Season

Coach E. M. Fulton's prospects for a champion nine again this year are very bright. There are eight veterans returning this year: Walker, the captain; Barber, Fitzsimmons, Pitts, Williams, Newsom, Mosley, and Stewart, who was a letter man two years at Sunset.

With an infield composed of Fitzsimmons, catcher; Newsom, first base; Barber, second base; Walker, third base, and Stewart, shortstop, Coach Fulton has the strongest infield in the city, both offensively and defensively.

Eldon Williams, considered the best hurler in the Dallas high schools, is expected to repeat his winnings of last year. In Hereford and Lott, Coach Fulton has two good reserve pitchers. The outfield, composed of Pitts, Mosley and Thompson or Goodson, has plenty of strength, and the team should prove one of the best in the city.

Thus far in the season, outstanding fielding and hitting has been done by Barber, Fitzsimmons, Pitts, Walker and Stewart; the pitching of Williams, Lott and Hereford has been exceptional. Newsom, Mosley, Thompson, Goodson, Krutilek, Ulrick and Garretson have also been outstanding in their work.

A woman driver ran into another vehicle and bent a mud-guard. It worried her. So she went to a garage and asked the mechanic:

"Can you repair this mud-guard so that my husband won't know it has been bent?"

The mechanic looked at the bent mud-guard and then at the woman and replied:

"No, ma'am, I can't. But I can fix it up so that in a few days you can ask your husband how he bent it."

MAN

Man is of few days and full of trouble. He laboreth all the days of his youth to pay for a gasoline chariot, and when at last the task is finished, lo, the thing is junk, and he needeth another. He planteth corn in the earth and tilleth it diligently, he and his servants and his asses, and when the harvest is gathered into the barns, he oweth the landlord eight dollars and forty cents more than the crop is worth. He borroweth money of the lenders to buy pork and molasses and gasoline, and the interest eateth up all he hath.

He begets sons and daughters and educateth them to smoke cigarettes and wear a white collar, and lo, they have soft hands and neither labor in the fields nor anywhere under the sun. One of his children becometh a lawyer, and another sticketh up a filling station and maketh whoopee with the substance thereof.

He goeth forth in the morning on the road that leadeth to the city and a jitney smiteth him so that his ribs project through his epidermis. All the days of his life he findeth no parking place, and is tormented by traffic cops from his going forth until he cometh back. An enemy stealeth his car; physicians remove his appendix, his teeth, and his bank roll; his arteries hardeneth in the evening of his life, and his heart bursteth trying to keep the furious pace. Sorrow and bill collectors followeth him all the days of his life, and when he is gathered to his fathers, the neighbors sayeth, "How much did he leave?" Lo, he hath left it all. And his widow rejoiceth in a new coupe and maketh eyes at a young sheik that slicketh his hair and playeth a nifty game of golluf.

Woe is man! And from the day of his birth to the time when the earth knoweth him no more, he laboreth for bread and catcheth naught but grief. Dust he was in the beginning, and now his name is mud.

WHAT TEXAS MAKES, MAKES TEXAS

TEXAS AS WILL ROGERS SEES IT

I been flying, train riding, automobile and horseback and buggy riding over Texas for thirty-three years and I've never seen a tenth of it. If it had been in Europe, eighty wars would have been fought over it. There is single ranches here bigger than France. Counties bigger than England. Saddle horse pastures big as Alsace Lorraine. The lakes of Switzerland would be buffalo wallows in Texas. It's located between Mexico and the U. S. to keep Mexico from annexing the United States.

It's so far to town that the cowboys who started in to vote for "Teddy" arrived in time to vote for "Franklin." Its "Vatican" is the town of Uvalde, its pope is John Nance Garner. Its sole industry is international politics. It's so big no governor can handle it. They have to have a man and his wife. It's the only state where a Republican has to have a passport to enter.

P.S.: They would use California for a telephone booth down here.

There's a tearing and a swearing and a falling down of stairs;
There's a fussing, and a fuming, and a pulling out of hairs;
There's a mangle, and a tangle, and the swell of blackened eye;
There's a pushing and a pulling—we will get there if we die.

There's a moaning and a groaning, and a crying out in pain;
There's a ruffle and a scuffle, as we struggle there in vain;
There's a clanging and a banging, and a broken-glassy crunch;
There's a gasping and a sighing—ah, at last we have our lunch!
